

WOMEN AT BEDFORD BOWL OVER GUARDS

Turn Hose on Them and Use
Feet, Sticks and Stones in Attack.

COPS QUELL OUTBREAK

Two Escape but Are Captured;
Two Others Make Getaway into the Hills.

Rioting at the Bedford Reformatory for Women has been renewed, and one of two men who tried to stop one of the outbreaks is suffering from pains in the stomach where he was kicked, and a guard is nursing a huge bump on the head. Among the hills about Bedford at least two feminine inmates are roaming, ready to turn fiercely upon the male who dares attempt to drag them back.

Having been allowed to leave their cells after Major Amos T. Baker took over the job as superintendent of the reformatory, the inmates appeared to be docile. The armistice was upset, however, a few days ago, and the Bedford village police were called on for aid. These officers confirmed reports yesterday that when they gained the reformatory yard they found negro women inmates gathered outside Flower cottage, where they are quartered, with knives, stones, clubs and a fire hose.

They had bowled over the reformatory guards with the hose. One of the Bedford cops performed the clever feat of getting to the main and turning off the water supply, although plenty of stones and sticks were hurled at him, and the women were subdued and locked up.

Dorothy Smith and Mary Taylor, white, made a dash for liberty after getting possession of the key to Elizabeth Fry Hall, and have not been seen since. That was three days ago, and two more prisoners fled late Friday, but were captured after they had run half a mile. Four other women made bold and energetic attempts to leave Bedford, but were caught by fletcher guards.

This was Major Baker's first serious trouble with the inmates, but when he was seen yesterday he said rather formally that "everything was quiet" and that reports of a race riot among the inmates were not justified, as there was no racial animosity harbored there. Two of the negro women who were quelled after the incident of the hose were returned, in a chastened mood, to their cottages yesterday, he said. The superintendent said he was not greatly alarmed over the disappearance of the Smith and Taylor women, and that a search was being continued which he believed would be successful. He only hoped that they would be found before they got lost or exhausted trying to find their way out of the hills.

MOELLER HEADS ALUMNI.

Edgar J. Moeller of this city has been elected president of the Columbia Alumni Federation to succeed Stephen G. Williams. The federation, with a membership of more than 20,000, is the largest university alumni body in the country. Simultaneously with his election the federation handed to President Nicholas Murray Butler's representative a check for $35,000, the first of the annual contributions the alumni purpose to make. The purpose is to provide every year what would amount to the interest on an endowment sum of several millions.

WOMEN PICK CHATTANOOGA.

CLEVELAND, July 23.—The executive board of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to-day selected Chattanooga, Tenn., as the city for next year's convention. The third annual convention of the federation adjourned last night.
